Though THE STAR is printed on the fastest steam press in use south of Baltimore, its edition is so large as to require it to be put to press at an early hour; Advertisements, therefore, should be sent in before 12 o'clock m.; etherwise they may not appear until the next day.

Notice .- District of Columbia Advertisements to be inserted in the BALTIMORE SUN are received at and forwarded from THE STAR Office.

A DARKIE NEWSPAPER .- We have seen a copy of "The Weekly Anglo-African," jublished every Saturday by Thos. Hamilton, No 48 Beek-man street, New York. It is a large sheet, clearly printed, marked No. 72, and dated Nov. 31, 1860, with the motto, "Man must be free: if not through the law, then above the law." There is an ed-itorial on "Negro Nationality" and one on "Martyr's Day, Dec. 2d," also an article on the "Anniversary of the Martyrdom of John Brown," " Cail for a Convention at Tremont Temple, Boston, on 3d December, to discuss the question. How can American slavery be abolished? signed by James Redpath, secretary. There is correspondence from several cities, including Charleston and Washington. The Charleston correspondent signs himself "A Colored Man," and seems to be rather deficient in grammar, but quite conservative. He holds forth as follows: "Harper's Ferry, the Texas raid, the Hitching movement in Marlboor, (S. C.,) are only making matters worse. Trustworthy servants are eyed with suspicion, and in some places strict sur-veillance are kept even to the exclusion of religious privileges Freemen are also suspected, and matters have risen to such a pitch that they are considered an anomaly, and their presence as danger-cus to the peace of the State. This state of things are the fruits of the action of northern fanatics. and God only knows where it will end," &c. The Washington correspondent eschews politics. but treats of social matters, concerts, weddings, &c., in colored circles, in such a style as would make the white Jenkins die with envy. The Syracuse (N. Y.) correspondent, J. W. Loguen, treats on negro suffrage, and says: "Its majority in the county was 910, while the republican majority was 3,869. I want them to have all the glory that belongs to them, but God knows it is little enough in this case; and if the colored people had not taken the matter in their own hands, I believe it would not have bad a majority even here, as many of the republicans voted against it. Shame on such friends. It was a measure of their own, too. I never did have much faith in them, and now I have less," &c. Besides all this there is "poetry," "anecdotes," and the commencement of a tale called "Miralda, or the Beautiful Quadroon; A Romance of American Slavery, founded on Fact," "by Wm. Wells Brown." The first three chapters open rich, nearly equal to any-thing of Cobb's This paper was found on her kitchen table by a lady in Georgetown, and her servants would give no satisfactory explanation of its appearance there It is supposed the "Anglo-African" has a considerable circulation in the District, though it does not come through the post office. The underground railroad is probably in good running order.

POLICE MATTERS .- Before Justice Barnaclo .-Henry Campbell, Virginia Russell, Mary Jane Hall, and Barberta Bell, were severally hauled up before the justice on account of the conspicuous part they had taken in a general "scrimmage" in Bates' alley. They were severally fined $3 15, $5 15, $3 94, and $3 94 Margaret Tyler, accused of transgressing one of the commands of the dec-alogue, was "fetched" in by an officer, under whose auspices she was mulcted in $1.94, and afterwards well scolded by the justice. Peter Juvenal was suspected of selling ardent spirits without a proper voncher from the City Register; he paid the magistrate $20.58. John McCoy made a public nuisance of himself, by exhibiting his birth-day clothes; he was fined $11.15. Bridgett Carey and her little child were both picked up drunk out of the gutter. The magistrate decided that they were vagrants, and workhouse for 90 days. Wm. T. Wair was accused of profanity; fined $1 94. Sophia Brogden also profane; fined $1.94. John Glick created a nuisance, and paid a fine of $10 94. Charles H. Butler, drunk and profane, was fined $2.94. Aaron Cokely, disorderly; flued $2.94. Sarah Smith, drunk and vagrant; workhouse 60 days. Before Justice Clark - Wm Simpson, accused of throwing stones in the streets; fined $3 29. Andrew Hanson, guilty of nulsance; fined $2.17.

Editor Star: Where is the night watch? Is the main spring broken? Does it want a thorough cleansing, or does it simply require a careful winding up? It certainly is "run down" enough. Last night, about 8 o'clock, a thier made a successful reappearance on the old scene of his operations, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, on Massachusetts avenue, carrying off a valuable white counterpane from the residence of a citizen. Interrupted in his operations, he beat a helter-skelter retreat, tumbling headlong over the fence of a neighbor, upsetting a slep tub on the side of which he had placed his foot, (making a "stirrup cup" of it,) and leaving the print of a neat boot in the potato parings it had contained. This is the third or fourth memorable visit made to the neighborhood by this fellow or his confederates. The hen roost of a neighbor was rebbed nightly. The hen roost of a neighbor was robbed nightly a few weeks ago, and another neighbor lost from the cellar of his house some forty or fifty pounds of lard, and a gentleman's shawl from the hatrack in the hall. Last night the locality visited was particularly difficult of access. The only approach being over adjoining fences, as the gates in the front and rear are closed early, and invariably The hour was about 8 o'clock. Mr. Editor, let the interested and interesting one know that, should be adventure another visit, be may obtain a counter-pain he could not repose upon; that a pill to cure him of his bad habits (neither good for his digestion nor locomotion) may be unusually administered. And that, instead of a loving wife, a "Sexton grey" may speedily be required to "tuck him in."

DR. J. C. AYER — Respected Sir: I should be wanting in common gratitude if I did rot acknowledge to you what your skill, or more accurately your Extract of Sarsaparilla has done for my wife. She has been for some years afflicted with a humor, which comes out upon her skin in the autumn and winter with such insufferable itching as to renders life almost intolerable. It has never failed to come upon her in cold weather, nor has any remedial aid been able to hasten its departure before spring, or to at all alleviate her sufferings from it. This seazon it began in October with its usual violence. By the advice of our celebrated Surgeon, Dr. Kimbali, I gave her your Sarsaparilla. In a week it had brought the humor out upon her skin worse than we had ever seen it before; but it soon began to disappear. The itching has ceased soon began to disappear The itching has ceased and the humor is no - entirely gone, so that she is completely cured, but still continues taking the Sarsaparilla, to insure a complete expulsion of the disease from the system. Yours, respectfully.

GEORGETOWN.

A large number of ladies and gentiemen were assembled yesterday afternoon at the residence of our social and esteemed fellow-citizen, Geo. W. Gray. Esq., the interesting occasion being the marriage of the host's daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Benedict Hutchins. Rev. Dr. Bocock performed the ceremony in an impressive manner, and afterwards presented to the newly-made husband a large and beautifully bound family Bible, on a blank leaf of which we read the following inscription:—" Presented to Benedict Hutchins, P.sq., by the Presbyterian congregation, as a slight F.sq., by the Presbyterian congregation, as a slight testimonial of their appreciation of his exertions in preventing the destruction of their church by fire. Georgetown, D.C., January 22, 1861." The reverend gentleman and his lady had presented to the betrothed couple a small Bible in the morning, and he accompanied this gift from his congregation with a few words of kindly advice to the recipient, who gracefully acknowledged the obligation.

Virginia Legislature.

RICHMOND, Jan. 22.—Governor Letcher to-day communicated to the Legislature the coercion resolutions of the Legislature of Ohio, with a message in which he says that such resolutions sent to the slaveholding States have no other effect than to excite resentments, influence prejudices, increase the difficulties, and embarrass, if not defeat, all the efforts now being made to adjust the controversy. He suggests the propriety of admin-ist ring a rebuke to the Governor of Ohlo for a refusal to surrender Owen Brown and France Merrian, when demanded by the authorities of this Commonwealth, as fugitives from justice. The message was tabled by a small majority. The Senate debated the one million defense bill, pending which an adjournment took place. Resolutions of the Senate of New York Approving the Course of Governor Hicks ALBANY, Jan. 22 -In the State Senate to-day Mr. Connolly offered a series of resolutions setting forth that the conservative action of the border States, in refusing to sanction the unconstitutional measures of the secession States, merit the acknowledgments of the people of New York. That the refusal of Governor Hicks, of Maryland, to call a convention to promote the object of the se-cessionists excites our profoundest admiration, and that the country will acknowledge him a patriot of the highest order. That liberty will own him as a benefactor of the buman race. Also ordered that a copy of the resolutions be sent to Gov.

Hicks. The resolutions were adopted-yeas 27, nays 1.

Movement of Pennsylvania Legislators in Favor of Compremise HARRISBURG, Jan 22 .- The republicans of the House favorable to the repeal of the obnexious provisions in the penal code relative to the rendi-tion of slaves, held a caucus to-day, when twentyfour were present. It is reported that their vote, combined with the democratic vote, will carry the repeal of these obnoxious laws through the House. A speech was made by Mr. Armstrong, republican, in the House to-day, favoring the adoption of Mr. Crittenden's amendments to the Constitution. It produced a powerful effect. It was the finest effort of the session in either house.

North Carolina Legislature. RALEIGH, Jan. 22 -The calling of a State Convention is more doubtful to-day on account of a disagreement as to the time. One party is for hasty and the other for deliberate action. The Senate agrees on the 21st of February for the election of delegates which date will likely kill the bill at its third reading. The bill was debated in the house to day, but no action was taken. North Carolina will prove conservative, but not submissive. Everybody will be for secession should it be necessary. I he Cieveland Fugitive Siave Cese.

PROMOTED -Yesterday, Col. Peter F. Bacon

THE THEATER was crowded (of course) last night, and great was the fun with the roaring farce, "An Affair of Honor," in which Jefferson was immense as the blood-thirsty "Maj. Linky;" and Raymond as "Capt Carnage" was excellent too. Then came the favorite play of "Newman Bland as "Squeers;" Bangs (warmly welcomed after his illness) as "Nicholas Nickleby;" Miss Anna Placide Mann as "Smike;" Miss Mary Shaw as the vicious "Fanny Squeers;" Raymond as the big-fisted, big-hearted Yorkshireman, "John Browdie;" and Mrs Ryan as his coquet'ish sweet-heart, "Miss Price" The play was capitally performed indeed, and the audience testified its enjoyment by the most demonstrative applause. The beautiful tableaux were managed with a

The evidence was not sufficient then, and the readiness of the girl to undergo examination, and her apparent dread of a ruined reputation, excited the sympathy of every one. She was dismissed, and thought herself beyond suspicion, and proceeded to make some purchases. Detective Allen and his companions spread their net and caught the bird. The twenty dollar note and a set of gold studs and bieeve-buttons were recovered, and identified as Mr. Bailey's property. The note was on the Union Bank of Tennessee, and so marked as not
